Dear Tanya,

Thank you for your emails.

We are sorry to hear of the difficulties you are having. Our office's role is as auditors of the public sector. We monitor the spending of public money on behalf of Parliament, we are not a general investigative or complaints agency.

We can see that you have contacted a number of agencies and Ministers already. The matters raised are not ones we can enquire into and fall outside our mandate. The only other organisation that may be of assistance is the Office of the Ombudsman (<http://www.ombudsman.parliament.nz>), who investigates complaints about the administrative acts and decisions of central and local government agencies. You could also consider getting independent legal advice. The Community Law Service (<http://www.communitylaw.org.nz/>) offers a free legal advice service.

We hope this information is of some help to you.

Kind regards
Natalie
